Colmore Partners has been recognised for the third year running as one of the 2025 UK's Best Workplaces in Financial Services and Insurance™ (in the Small & Medium size category) by Great Place to Work® UK.

The award is based on an anonymous employee engagement survey, which measures how organisations support employees' work-life balance, sense of fulfilment, job satisfaction, psychological safety and financial security.

This year's survey found that:

- 93% of employees say that Colmore Partners is a great place to work
- 100% say they feel welcomed when they join the company
- 100% say colleagues regularly celebrate each other's successes

Over the past 12 months, Colmore Partners has worked closely with employees on training to develop skills that will strengthen and nurture client relationships, as well as participating in a number of local community-led initiatives through charitable donations and staff volunteering.

Benedict Gautrey, Managing Director of Great Place To Work® UK said: "Financial services and insurance is a sector often defined by its fast pace and high pressure. Our data shows that top-performing workplaces in this industry are changing that narrative – putting work-life balance and flexibility at the heart of their culture. By fostering supportive environments, they're helping people thrive both personally and professionally – and enjoying the myriad business benefits that this creates.
